Site Activities at KGH as of December 23, 2008

Construction activities will be halted for the holidays from December 24 to January 2.

The site of the new UBC Medical School Building and Parkade is being prepared for construction. Current work includes: excavation of the site; placement and compaction of crushed rock.; drill rigs will also be on site in the new year to prepare the site for the geothermal systems that will heat and cool the new buildings

The Next Phase

The drilling to prepare for the installation of the geothermal rods will take several weeks. As the rigs move from hole to hole work will start on setting footings and foundations.

Work will also begin shortly on construction of the temporary ambulance bays.
